Aflatoun Day is 26 March!

Aflatoun Day is a moment to celebrate the great work taking place to socially and economically empower children and young people globally. Follow us on social media so that you get updates on all the activities taking place throughout the day.

Coronavirus: How it is changing education in China

The coronavirus has hit China hard and caught the attention of the whole world. A consequence of the spreading virus is that people in China have been instructed to stay inside. This has had a major impact on businesses, schools and the way of life for many, including students.

Check out how our China-based partner, Be Better China, is still delivering social & financial education despite closed schools.

Life skills & financial skills through a gender lens

In February, we had training sessions on Aflateen+ in Uganda, Ghana and Malawi.

Aflateen+ is a powerful educational programme for girls and boys and features life skills, financial education, entrepreneurship and sexual & reproductive health & rights. The programme is based on student-centred learning methods and is for ages 14 - 19 years old.

Ensuring effectiveness through research

An important part of the work we do is ensuring that what we do is effective. To that end, we continuously organise studies and impact assessments.

Currently, we are conducting three randomised control trials in India, Cameroon and Burkina Faso. The research trials compare students who have received social & financial education with those that have not yet received it.
